The Australian Institute of Energy, Melbourne Branch

are pleased to present:

The implications of carbon emissions trading on the Australian aluminium industry.

Date: Tuesday, 23 February, 2010

Time: 12:00 for a buffet lunch. Presentation 12:30 to finish 2pm.

Place: Roy Morgan Research, Ground Floor, 401 Collins St, Melbourne

Tim McAuliffe is Alcoa of Australia's General Manager Carbon Strategy and will give us his insights into the challenges emissions trading will pose to his industry. Tim will also evaluate the implications of the direct action plan being proposed as an alternative climate response strategy by the Federal Opposition. He will also touch on some of the work Alcoa is doing at the global scale to respond to a carbon constrained world.

Bookings with payment must be received by Friday 19th February or until filled.
Access to level 27 will only be available for persons registered for the event.
