

WINTER LEARNING SERIES

Join YEP SA for a chance to network, lunch and learn as we host a series of lunch time lectures on the basics of electricity and gas.

Everything you ever wanted to know about gas

Monday 16 August 2010 – Blake Dawson, Level 4, 151 Pirie Street, Adelaide, 12 – 2pm

In conjunction with the Young Pipeline Forum, three gas industry speakers on:

Gas Exploration and Drilling – Elinor Alexander – Manager of Petroleum Geology Branch, PIRSA

Elinor is a geologist who chalked up 25 years with the Mines Department in January. The Geology team is responsible for: petroleum and geothermal prospectivity research, promotion of acreage releases and investment opportunities, and regulation of company work programs and data submission.

Gathering Systems and Processing – James Czornohalan – Principal Pipeline Engineer, Fyfe

James has been working for more than 15 years as a pipeline operator, designer and project manager. Having spent the early part of his career in operations and integrity management, James has since been involved with design and construction of Gas, Water, Crude Oil and HVPL pipelines and has extensive experience in the design of upstream gathering networks. James also has experience designing oil, gas and coal seam gas production facilities.

Gas Transmission – Rod Hall - Transportation Services Coordinator, SEA Gas

Rod has been employed in the gas pipeline transmission industry for over 30 years, with a short stint in SA Water's bulk water pipeline division. His initial experience was obtained in commercial and project procurement areas with a majority of the last 25 years in Control Centre operations. Rod is currently responsible for System Control Centre aspects of the SEA Gas pipeline and acts as an interface between commercial and operational areas. This role includes managing SEA Gas' contractual obligations and Shipper Agreement accountabilities, as well as Operation Agreements and contracts with maintenance providers, contractors, producers and government regulators. His focus is on safe, efficient and reliable pipeline operation that meets customer requirements on a daily and hourly basis, while providing technical guidance and direction in the development of new services.
